AlumNotes: The Newsletter of the St. Mary's University Alumni Association

1990-1994

Note: "Produced quarterly for alumni by alumni," printed by the Alumni Relations Office in an 11 x 17-inch format. Mailings of AlumNotes for the years 1990-1994 often included adhesions such as donation envelopes, flyers for events, bumper stickers and other ephemera. A few of the issues in the file copy retain these adhesions.

Barrister News 1952-1968
The series in the University Archives begins only with Volume 2, number 5 (1953) and continues to Vol. 15, number 2 (1968). The Barrister News was published by the School of Law through the Barrister's Club, a member of the American Law Student Association of the American Bar Association. It was edited and operated by the students when it began in April 1952 as a 7 x 10-inch paper issued tri-annually (Fall, Spring, and Summer). In 1956 the format expanded to an 11 x 17-inch bi-fold. In the fall of 1964, the format expanded again to an 8 ½ x 11-inch, 16-page newsletter with a printed cover. Frequency expanded to quarterly. It was considered a "semi-professional" publication with a lead article of a professional nature followed by alumni and student news. It appears to have stopped publishing in 1968 with the move to the Woodlawn campus.

Rattler, The

1924-2019

Note: The student newspaper began in 1919 as the St. Louis College Bulletin. In 1923 the name changed to St. Mary's College Bulletin. Then in 1924, the paper relaunched as The Rattler. In 1934 The Rattler won the highest award of the Catholic School Press Association and the second highest of the National Scholastic Press Association. The Rattler at different times alternated between a broadsheet format and a tabloid and between a monthly and a semi-monthly. Under the editorship of Henry Krausse (BA '78), it published weekly. Noeli Lytton (BA '71) was the first female editor. During 2001-02, The Rattler staff disbanded after an impasse with the university administration over content. It revived the next year with Francisco Vara-Orta as editor hired by the Dean of Students. The Rattler launched its first web site in 2003. In 2004, under the editorship of Chuck Kerr (BA '07) The Rattler won the best newspaper award of the Associated Collegiate Press. In 2010 the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association awarded The Rattler "Best of Show" in its division and again in 2019. During the Spring of 2013 there appeared The Venom, a magazine edition. Then in May 2019 there appeared The Rattler Magazine inaugural edition. The fall semester of 2020 endured the Covid-19 shutdown from March to the end of the semester.

Index: The Rattler is indexed for 1960-2006 by Brother Robert Wood, SM

St. Mary's University Bulletin 1967-1979
Note: (Formerly Paisano) Informally called simply "the Bulletin," its masthead described it as the "Alumni Publication of St. Mary's University." Volume 1 number 1 is (December 1967). "The new look, like the new name, reflects quite simply all the best techniques now being utilized to make publications more attractive, more interesting, more readable. If you aren't enticed to read it, we have failed in our job." During the Summer of 1979, there is an adjustment to format: "A new schedule of regular alumni publications will now include a summer issue of the Bulletin in tabloid form, fall and winter issues of the Bulletin in magazine format, and a President's Report in the spring." There are no extant issues for the fall of 1979. In February 1980, the Gold and Blue debuts in a newspaper format and in the summer of 1980, The St. Mary's Report.

The Thing Itself

1971-1983

Note: "... a publication of the United Colleges of San Antonio (UCSA)." "The New School of Criticism states that a work of art, prose and poetry, is an entity which stands independent of author's name, background, hence – a thing in itself" (from 1978-1979 edition cover). Volume 1, no. 1 appears as a saddle-bound booklet of 36 pages, 23 cm. But the second number radically changes form into a small portfolio (19 cm) containing loose-leaf compositions of prose, poetry, art or photographs. The portfolio format is retained until 1977-78, whereupon it returns to a saddle-bound booklet. Several earlier portfolio editions bear neither volume numbering nor dates making identification an estimate. The "United Colleges of San Antonio" consisted of St. Mary's University, the College of the Incarnate Word, and Our Lady of the Lake College.

This Month: A Newsletter for the St. Mary's Community 1987-1996

"The newsletter's new name, St. Mary's University This Month, was selected because it better reflects what the newsletter is about. Design changes include a new size and format. The calendar's designed as a pull-out section for posting." First edition with new format is September 1987. Published monthly by the Public Relations Department; Susie McLean editor. The issue of August 1990, appeared with color used for the cover. Beginning with December 1990, the months of December and January were combined into a single issue. With March 1995, the format for This Month switched from an eight-page tabloid to a six-page tri-fold measuring 11 x 25-inches when unfolded. The final issue of This Month was December '96-January '97. Indexed for 1987-1996

This Week 1967-1983

Beginning with March 22, 1967, a printed banner makes its appearance and continues until August 23-29, 1967. The page size is exclusively 8 ½ x 11-inch. The issuing agency is David Roberts, Director of Public Relations. The banner is green with the title This Week, St. Mary's of Texas. There appears as well the logo of four cartouches each with a symbol of one of the schools. With the issue of September 9-15, 1976, the title in the masthead becomes "St. Mary's USA University of San Antonio. The four cartouches are gone. The "USA" logo ends with the issue of March 5-11, 1981. The issues from March 19-25, 1981 until June 18-24, have a handmade banner with the title "This Week" and a penciled silhouette of the gable of St. Louis Hall. Then with July 27-Aug 2, 1981, a new banner printed in dark blue on yellow paper makes its appearance. The title "This Week" is followed by "Published by and for the St. Mary's University Community. The content remains the same; terse bulletins listed by day of the week. This iteration of This Week ends with the issue of August 22-September 4, 1983. This Week is replaced by St. Mary's In Progress (1983-1987). This Week is indexed for 1967-1983

Witan, The

1974-1989

The University Archives series begins only with volume two. It is not clear if The Witan succeeded the Legal Beagle. The Witan staff was composed of law students some of whom appeared on the Legal Beagle staff. Volume 2 (1974-75) masthead reads "Witan is published by students of St. Mary's Law School, monthly except June to August." The banner of Volume 3 (1975-76) reads "Student Newspaper of St. Mary's University School of Law." However, a memo dated October 30, 1989, describes The Witan as a "weekly publication of the law school's administration to the students, faculty and staff.
