Restrictions to Access:	none
Usage Restrictions:	none
Alternative Forms:	none
Acquisition History:	The collection came to Saint Mary's University in two stages, first from John Cotter Sullivan and later from his sister Elizabeth Sullivan Clem. John Cotter Sullivan attended the old St. Mary's College from 1882 to 1893. In 1963 he donated to its successor St. Mary's University six Gentilz paintings of the San Antonio Missions and a Coppini bust of himself. In 1968, the University received from the estate of Elizabeth Sullivan Clem, deceased, "all books and volumes comprising the library in my residence at 404 Broadway in San Antonio, Texas, together with the bookcases in which such books and volumes are kept."

The Clem-Sullivan estate donation in 1968 was the occasion to begin the Special Collections Department at Blume Library (Bro. Robert Wood, SM). In addition to the books set aside for St. Mary's University, Mrs. Clem directed that all the furnishings be divided among the St. Mary's, Incarnate Word College, Our Lady of the Lake University and the private museums of San Antonio.

Processing Information: The collection is divided into five series: family papers, ephemera, library, objects, and photographs. The family papers are arranged by the name of the family member by whom they were generated and are housed in the special collections department. The ephemera are arranged by format and stored with the papers. The same is so for the few photographs in the collection (about 8 items). The books of the library are shelved in special collections according to Decimal Classification. Sets of books such as encyclopedias are housed separately in hardwood cabinets from the Clem-Sullivan residence. The extensive collection of sheet music at some unknown time was assigned serial numbers by which they are currently arranged. The objects in the collection consist overwhelmingly of furniture or fine art. These pieces have been used to furnish various meeting spaces throughout the university campus. A list is included at the end of this inventory. A few items of furniture and fine art remain in the special collections room at Blume Library.

“In addition, the house contained a large quantity of correspondence, photographs, and other papers and documents covering a period of several generations in the Sullivan family, which we think may be of possible interest from the standpoint of regional history and research. All of these papers were sent to Sister Anne at her request, so that she could review them and retain those items which she wished to keep for personal or family reasons; but she has informed us that she will return to us the larger part of these papers, and these will then also be available for your consideration.” (Letter from Bobbitt, Brite, Bobbitt & Allen of San Antonio, May 16, 1968)

Biographies of the Sullivan Family Members

This collection includes items from at least four generations of the Sullivan Family beginning with the patriarch, Daniel Sullivan (1805-1871) who immigrated to the United States from Ireland in 1850 and took up residence in Alexandria, Louisiana.

First Generation

Daniel Sullivan (1805-1871) immigrated to the United States from Ireland in 1850 and took up residence in Alexandria, Louisiana where he began a mercantile business. He was unmarried and brought with him his nephew also named Dan Sullivan (b 1844).

Daniel “Dan” Sullivan, Sr. (b 1844-d 1931) was born in Cork County, Ireland. He came to the United State in 1850 in the company of his unmarried uncle also named Daniel Sullivan (1805-1871) who took up residence in Alexandria, Louisiana. The younger Daniel attended a school in Alexandria conducted by schoolmaster B. L. Lynch. The family moved to Indianola (then called Powder Horn) in 1857. At the age of fourteen, he entered the Jesuit school at New Orleans remaining there until 1861 when he returned to his family in Indianola. Daniel volunteered for the Confederate Army in Company B of the First Regiment of Texas Calvary, organized in May 1861 at Victoria. The regiment fought in Louisiana where Daniel was wounded in the battle of Pleasant Hill. He remained with that regiment until it disbanded on May 23, 1865 at Corsicana. At the death of his uncle who was childless, Daniel inherited the wholesale grocery and general merchandise businesses. The hurricane of September 16, 1875 at Indianola carried off his home and its contents together with stores and warehouses of his businesses. Daniel Sullivan continued these businesses until he moved his family to San Antonio in January 1882. Around 1884 he opened a private bank, D. Sullivan & Co., Bankers, San Antonio, Texas. He continued in the banking business until his death on November 30, 1931, at the age of 87 years. His residence at the time of his death was 404 Broadway Street. He was regarded as a “pioneer banker” of San Antonio and his estate was unofficially estimated to be worth $20 million.

Anne Cotter Sullivan (b 1842-d 1904) a native of Ireland, came to the United States in 1856 with her uncle Daniel Sullivan. She married his nephew, also named Daniel Sullivan on January 5, 1868 at Indianola, Texas with Bishop C. M Dubuis of Galveston presiding. They had seven children: William, Eleanor, Annie, Daniel, John, Mary Elizabeth, and Walter.

Second Generation

William Cusack Sullivan (1868-1930) – Also known as WC Sullivan, he was born at Indianola and died at San Antonio. He was unmarried. He attended school at Victoria, and then was a student at St. Mary’s College, San Antonio, Texas. He attended the Lawrence Scientific School at Harvard University in 1899. He then attended the University of Pennsylvania’s Pierce School of Business. His name appears on the letterhead of D. Sullivan & Co. Bankers. He was an insurance agent, 311 Brady Building, San Antonio, Texas, in 1924. He was a member of the San Antonio Club (in at least 1897).

Eleanor (“Nellie”) Alice Sullivan (1870-1931) – Also known as “Nellie” and “E. A. Sullivan,” she attended school at the Ursuline Convent, San Antonio and then at Notre Dame College, Maryland. She married James Robert Collins of Atlanta, Georgia in March 1894. She died at San Antonio in March 1931; he died at Harlingen, Texas in 1947. They had one child, Eleanor Sullivan Collins, born March 12, 1895 at Atlanta, Georgia.

Anne Marie Sullivan (1872-____) – Born at Indianola, she attended school at the Ursuline Convent at San Antonio, Texas, at Notre Dame College, Baltimore, Maryland, and the Sacred Heart Convent in Paris. She lived in San Antonio and was one of the five survivors who inherited her father's fortune.

Daniel Joseph Sullivan, Junior (1874-1948) – Born at Indianola, he attended Saint Mary's College, San Antonio. Next he attended Rock Hill College, Ellicott City, Maryland, graduating with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in the Class of 1895. Then he attended Pierce College School of Business, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania for the spring semester of 1896. He assisted his father "Dan" in the management of the D. Sullivan Bank and assumed control after his father's death. He was named the independent executor of his father's will and charged with making distribution of the property. He married Josephine Saylor at San Antonio, Texas, during October 1904. He died in San Antonio leaving one child, Daniel Sullivan III.

John Cotter Sullivan (1875-1966) – Born at Indianola on December 24, 1875, he attended St. Mary's College, San Antonio, from 1882 to 1893, and then Rock Hill College, Ellicott City, Maryland, graduating with A. B. degree, in 1896. He attended Harvard Law School from 1896-1899, and graduated with the Class of 1899. Returning to Rock Hill College he graduated with a Master of Arts degree in 1902. He was an attorney and counsellor at law in San Antonio. During his career he handled occasional legal matters for his father's bank but was not involved in its operations. He was active in the Saint Mary's College Alumni Association and served as president (1908). JC was a member of the special committee of the Chamber of Commerce that consulted Mayor Callaghan in 1909 about Pompeo Coppini's proposal for a civic auditorium to be built near San Pedro Springs. Col. John L. Clem also served on that committee. He married Florence Fletcher April 24, 1909; they were without children. In 1931 he was one of the five survivors who inherited a fifth share of his father's fortune. A press account (in 1934) reported that John had such bad hearing that he was obliged to conduct matters of business through written messages. He was a philanthropist and made generous donations to St. Mary's University Law School including the original set of Southwest Reporters and other books. In 1963 he donated to St. Mary's a six paintings of the San Antonio Missions by Theodore Gentilz and a bust of himself sculpted by Pompeo Coppini. His place of residence (in 1959) was 1249 South Saint Mary's Street in San Antonio. He maintained his law practice at the same address.

Mary Elizabeth Sullivan Clem (1878-1967) – She is also known as "Bessie" and "B. Sullivan" and Mrs. John Lincoln Clem. Born at Indianola, she attended school San Antonio, Texas then Notre Dame College, Baltimore, Maryland. After graduation she spent a year in Paris at the Sacred Heart Convent. She married Colonel John Lincoln Clem in 1903 and had one child, Anne Elizabeth Clem, born 1905 in San Antonio, Texas. She resided in Washington, DC at the time of her father's death in 1931. She was one of the five survivors who inherited an equal share of her father's fortune.

Walter Sullivan (1881-1905) – was born at Indianola and attended school at St. Mary's College, San Antonio. He attended Rock Hill College, Ellicott City, Maryland, Academy of Music, from 1895 graduating in June 1897. He applied for admission to Harvard College in 1897. He studied for a year at Harvard, and then enrolled at Yale University, graduating from there with the Class of 1903. He was lost at sea July 12, 1905, from a Pacific liner between San Francisco and Honolulu while enroute to Manila, Philippine Islands, to visit Mrs. John Lincoln Clem, his sister. He died unmarried and without issue.

John Lincoln Clem (1851-1937) – was born in Newark, Ohio, on August 13, 1851. He was legendary as a military figure in the United States Army beginning as a ten-year old drummer boy who participated in combat with the federal army during the US Civil War. He married Anita Rosetta French in 1875. She died in 1899, and he married Bessie Sullivan (Mary Elizabeth Sullivan) of San Antonio in 1903. Clem spent a number of his army years in Texas. From 1906 to 1911 he was chief quartermaster at Fort Sam Houston. He rose to the rank of major general by the time he retired in 1916. During his last years in the army he was the sole remaining Civil War veteran on active service. After retirement he remained in Washington for a few years then returned to San Antonio. Clem was the father of two children. He died in San Antonio on May 13, 1937, and was buried in Arlington National Cemetery. (Robert L. Talmadge, Handbook of Texas Online)

John Lincoln Clem, army officer, was born in Newark, Ohio, on August 13, 1851. In May 1861 he attempted to enlist in the Third Ohio Volunteers but was rejected because of his youth. He attached himself unofficially to the Twenty-second Michigan Infantry and participated in the battle of Shiloh as a drummer. He enlisted shortly thereafter and participated in the battle of Chickamauga, in which, at the age of twelve, he shot a Confederate colonel who demanded his surrender. After the battle, the "Drummer Boy of Chickamauga" was promoted to sergeant and placed upon the roll of honor, the youngest soldier ever to be a noncommissioned officer in the United States Army. After participating with the Army of the Cumberland in many other battles, being twice wounded and a prisoner of war, he was discharged in 1864. He returned home and graduated from high school in 1870. After he attempted unsuccessfully to enter the United States Military Academy at West Point, President Ulysses S. Grant appointed him second lieutenant in the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry. Clem graduated from artillery school at Fort Monroe in 1875, transferred to the quartermaster department in 1882, and rose to the rank of major general by the time he retired in 1916. During his last years in the army he was the sole remaining Civil War veteran on active service. Clem spent a number of his army years in Texas. From 1906 to 1911 he was chief quartermaster at Fort Sam Houston; after retirement he remained in Washington for a few years, then returned to San Antonio. He married Anita Rosetta French in 1875. She died in 1899, and he married Bessie Sullivan of San Antonio in 1903. Clem was the father of two children. He died in San Antonio on May 13, 1937, and was buried in Arlington National Cemetery. (Robert L. Talmadge, Handbook of Texas Online)

Collection Overview

This collection includes papers relating to four generations of the Sullivan Family from the time the family immigrated to the United States during the 1850s until the materials were donated after the death of Elizabeth Sullivan Clem in 1968. A large part of the papers relates to the educations of the seven children of Dan Sullivan, the San Antonio banker. Especially well documented are John Cotter Sullivan's years at Harvard College and Harvard Law School during the 1890s. Also documented are William C Sullivan's years at Piece Business College in Philadelphia. Other schools with some degree of documentation are Saint Mary's College in San Antonio and Rock Hill College in Maryland. Business records from the insurance agency of William C Sullivan (d 1930) are for the last years of his career from 1916 to 1929. The ephemera include merchandise catalogs (1866-1920s), seed catalogs (1890-1910), travel brochures (1891-1898), and religious devotional images or "holy cards" (1854-1929s). From the library of the family residence at 404 Broadway in San Antonio are 161 books (1846-1952), pamphlets on timely topics (1848-1893), and a few periodicals (1893-1927). The sheet music numbers about 200 items (1859-1945). The publishers are from Germany, the United States (including some from Texas), England and France. The 336 objects in the collection consist almost entirely of the furnishings of the same residence. The collection is limited to items found in 1968 at 404 Broadway Avenue. The only exceptions are the sculptures and paintings donated by John Cotter Sullivan that are included in this inventory.

Series One: Family Papers

Arrangement Note: Materials are arranged by the name of the family member to whom they relate. The family members are arranged in the chronological order of their birth dates. The Sullivan family used the same first names through four generations which can result in confusion. Therefore, the name of each Sullivan is followed by the year of birth to disambiguate them. Materials that cannot be assigned to an individual family member appear at the end of the series.

Historical Note: The Sullivan boys attended Saint Mary's College in San Antonio. This is not to be confused with St. Mary's University of San Antonio. From 1852 to 1923, St. Mary's College was an elementary and secondary school for boys with a boarding department that was located in downtown San Antonio and conducted by the Brothers of Mary. In 1923 it was renamed St. Mary's Academy and in 1931 Central Catholic High School.

Scope Note: The records of D. Sullivan & Company, Bankers remained at the bank building when it closed in 1934 to be rediscovered in 1950 when the building was renovated. There is no record what happened to the banking records found in 1950 (see San Antonio Light, Sunday, July 2, 1950: 11-B; "New Face for Old Landmark").

Daniel Sullivan (b 1805)

Biographical Note: The "Mr. Sullivan" mentioned in this document is likely Daniel Sullivan (b 1805) who was an uncle of the Daniel "Dan" Sullivan (b 1844) who fathered the Sullivans of San Antonio. The "Miss Cotter" is likely the niece of "Mr. Sullivan" (b 1805) who later married "Dan" Sullivan (b 1844)

Description Note: Devotional images, known colloquially to English-speaking Roman Catholics as “holy cards,” are small cards similar in size to trading cards that depict Jesus, Mary, the Saints, biblical passages or various prayers. The cards collected by the Sullivans range in dates from 1854 to the 1920s. They are printed in one of four languages (French, German, English and Latin). The older cards are engraved and fringed with paper lace. The later cards are made by lithograph or offset press. Many of the cards bear names of the Sullivans or others and some have personal inscriptions.

Historical Note about Letter of John Cotter Sullivan Dated August 21, 1923

THE LETTER: John writes to his sister Eleanor Sullivan Collins (1870-1931), about books sent to him by her daughter, also Eleanor Sullivan Collins (b. 1895), whom John refers to as “Eleanor Junior.” In his letter, John refers to the following:

Woodrow Wilson (1856-1924) – president of Princeton University from 1902-1910; governor of New Jersey 1911-1913; elected President of the United States in 1912 with 42% of the popular vote in a four-way race; author of A History of the American People, published originally in 1901, 1902 and republished in 1918 (New York & London: Harper & brothers, 1918, enlarged edition in ten volumes). Woodrow Wilson subscribed to the land value tax reformer Henry George, whose Progressive doctrine was known popularly as “Georgism” and those who espoused it as “Georgists.”

Doubleday Page & Company – The firm was founded as Doubleday & McClure Company in 1897 by Frank Nelson Doubleday and magazine publisher Samuel McClure. In 1900 the company became Doubleday, Page & Company when Walter Hines Page joined as a new partner and vice president from 1900 to 1913. In 1913, Page was named Ambassador to Great Britain by President Woodrow Wilson.

Walter Hines Page (1855-1918) – was an American journalist, publisher and diplomat. He was the United States ambassador to the United Kingdom during World War I. He worked on several newspapers including the New York World and the Evening Post. He was the editor of The Atlantic Monthly for several years (1896-1899) and literary adviser to Houghton Mifflin. As ambassador to Britain he defended British policies to Wilson. He was criticized for his pro-British stance by those who thought he should be defending US interests against British claims such as the right to stop and search American ships including mail pouches. Owing to illness, Page resigned his post in 1918 and returned to the US. He is buried in Old Bethesda Cemetery in Aberdeen, North Carolina but a memorial plaque in his honor was installed in Westminster Abbey.

“This Year’s Biographical Dussie” – is probably a reference to The Life and Letters of Walter H. Page, by Burton J. Hendrick published originally in Garden City, NY by Doubleday, Page & Company with two volumes in 1922 and a third in 1925, having Page’s letters to Woodrow Wilson.
