Custodial History

The San Antonio Casino Club records were in the possession of the Sullivan-Clem Estate. Possibly one of the Sullivan men such as John Cotter Sullivan (b 1875) was in possession of the records when the club became inactive during the late 1950s.

Acquisitions Information

The San Antonio Casino Club records came to Saint Mary's University as part of the bequest of the Sullivan-Clem Estate (SC 21) in 1968.

Processing Information

The records in this collection arrived in a number of irregular containers folded and bundled with rubber bands. Bank statements ordered chronologically but all other records had no order. The Special Collections department sorted the records by format and function during the 1990s. The collection was arranged by corporation and this finding aid was composed by Bro. Lawrence Scrivani, SM in 2016.

Institutional History

In 1854, German settlers in San Antonio formed the Casino Association (Casino Gesellschaft). It incorporated in 1857 and built a club house on Market Street in 1858. In 1882, the San Antonio Club was founded dedicated to literary purposes. As early as 1907 the club entered into a lease agreement with the San Antonio Club and Opera House Company. In 1925, the Casino Association and the San Antonio Club merged and reincorporated as the San Antonio Casino Club. The new Club secured a mortgage dated May 1, 1928 for the sum of $75,000 to build a club house. Mortgage payment with interest was to be completed by January 1, 1932. When this date came, no payment had been made, the club auctioned its furnishings in 1934 and obtained an extension of its mortgage to January 1, 1941. In 1936 the organization reincorporated as the Casino Club of San Antonio. When the club could not retire the extended mortgage in 1941, they sold the building in 1942 to Oklahoma oilman Thomas Gilcrease. By 1953 club finances were again in deficit leading to a Motion to Liquidate in October 1953.

Collection Overview

This collection contains the records of five corporate entities: the Casino Association (1854-1925), the San Antonio Club (1882-1925), the San Antonio Club and Opera House Company (1907-1925), the San Antonio and Casino Club (1925-1936), and the Casino Club of San Antonio (1936-1960). The Opera House Company was likely a subsidiary of the San Antonio Club. The bulk of the records concern the merged club. There is little of the Casino Gesellschaft. The collection is arranged in these series:

Series 1: Casino Association (Casino Gesellschaft), organized 1854

Series 2: San Antonio Club, organized 1882

Series 3: San Antonio-Casino Club, organized 1925

Series 4: Casino Club of San Antonio, organized 1936

Objects

Series 1: Casino Association, 1854-1925

HISTORICAL NOTE: This association was known in the German language as Casino Gesellschaft.
