Center for Terrorism Law

Monthly Activity Report

December 2012

1. The Center for Terrorism Law provides non-legal informational assistance regarding issues of national importance affecting our military and law enforcement personnel who may be unjustly treated as a consequence of the performance of their official duties. Currently, the Center for Terrorism Law has helped bring national attention to the plight of a Coast Guard officer regarding the Department of Homeland Security and the US Coast Guard. The story was covered in detail on the front page of the Washington Times on December 23, 2012 (see below).
2. Professor Addicott's detailed law review article entitled: Rightly Dividing the Domestic Jihadist from the Enemy Combatant in the War Against Al Qa'eda – Why it Matters in Rendition & Targeted Killing, has been submitted for publication to the Case Western Reserve Law School, Cleveland, Ohio. Addicott participated in a roundtable debate on this topic at the Frederick K. Cox International Law Center War Crimes Research Symposium on 7 September 2012, in Cleveland, Ohio.
3. Professor Addicott is working on a law review article regarding the Rules of Engagement. This article should be completed in early 2013.
4. The Center for Terrorism Law is a non-profit 501(c)(3). We operate entirely on private donations and public grants. All gifts are tax deductible. If you are interested in supporting the unique work conducted by the Center for Terrorism Law please contact jaddicott@stmarytx.edu.
5. The Center for Terrorism Law now has a Facebook page. Be sure to hit the "like" button to get updates from the Center on Facebook. Plus, the Center can now be followed on Twitter "@terrorismlaw" for real time updates posted by the Center for Terrorism Law research fellows! Finally, the research fellows from the Center for Terrorism law are powering an online journal and resource center featuring related articles, news, and research at <http://www.terrorismlawreport.org>.

6. Professor Addicott is available to present professional talks on a variety of topics associated with national security issues. In the past nine years, he has spoken over 600 times nationally and internationally, to a wide variety of groups to include law schools, government institutions, law enforcement, civic, religious groups, etc. Please refer any requests for lectures/talks to jaddicott@stmarytx.edu.
