

1-1-1990

Dedication.

Editorial Board St. Mary's School of Law

Follow this and additional works at: <https://commons.stmarytx.edu/thestmaryslawjournal>

 Part of the Environmental Law Commons, Health Law and Policy Commons, Immigration Law Commons, Jurisprudence Commons, Law and Society Commons, Legal Ethics and Professional Responsibility Commons, Military, War, and Peace Commons, Oil, Gas, and Mineral Law Commons, and the State and Local Government Law Commons

Recommended Citation

Editorial Board St. Mary's School of Law, Dedication., 21 ST. MARY'S L.J. (1990).

Available at: <https://commons.stmarytx.edu/thestmaryslawjournal/vol21/iss4/7>

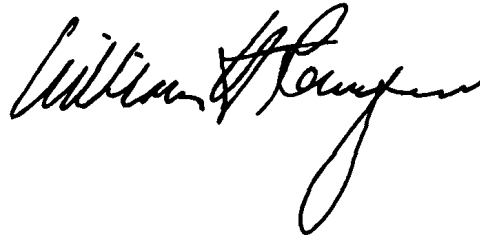

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the St. Mary's Law Journals at Digital Commons at St. Mary's University. It has been accepted for inclusion in St. Mary's Law Journal by an authorized editor of Digital Commons at St. Mary's University. For more information, please contact egoode@stmarytx.edu, sfowler@stmarytx.edu.

Supreme Court of the United States
Washington, D. C. 20543

CHAMBERS OF
THE CHIEF JUSTICE

January 9, 1990

I first met Jim Castleberry when we both participated in the dedication of a new Phi Delta Phi Inn at Suffolk University in Boston, Massachusetts, and I renewed my acquaintance with him when I visited St. Mary's University a few years ago to help pay tribute to his distinguished career. I know from these experiences that Jim Castleberry is not only an able and dedicated professor of law, but is a member of our profession who views his responsibilities in the broadest sense. He teaches not only by his lectures, but by his example. Those many students who have followed his lead are eloquent testimony to the fact that the concept of the law as a "learned profession" is very much alive today. They are the best tribute to his thirty-four year commitment to legal education and to the legal profession.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "William H. Rehnquist". The signature is written in a cursive style with a large, looping flourish at the end.